INTRODUCTION

The papers of Hallum W. Goodloe (1869-1956), Clerk of Crockett County Court, 1891-1901; Chief Clerk to Tennessee's Secretary of State, 1901-1907; Secretary of State 1909-1913; Private Secretary to Governor Tom C. Rye, 1915-1918; Assistant to the Superintendent of Banks, 1918-1929; Chief Clerk to State Treasurer, 1929-1931; and Deputy Superintendent of State Banks, 1931-1949, were given to the Manuscript Section of the Tennessee State Library and Archives by surviving members of his family.

The materials in this finding aid measure 10 linear feet. There are no restrictions on the materials. Single photocopies of unpublished writings in the Hallum W. Goodloe Papers may be made for purposes of scholarly research.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The papers of Hallum Wood Goodloe covering the period of 1863-1956 and numbering approximately 7,500 items, contain accounts, correspondence, diaries, genealogical data, legal documents, newspaper clippings, photographs, scrapbooks, speeches, writings, and some miscellaneous memoranda. The bulk of the material falls between the period of 1901-1949, during which time Goodloe served almost continuously in some department of state government. The earliest document in the collection is a diary kept by C.A. Goodloe (Hallum's father) during 1863-1864 and is primarily a record of personal and family activities in the local church and social events. Several references tell of Federal troops operating in the area.

Correspondence constitutes the largest portion of material in the collection. The family letters have been separated and the principal correspondents in this portion are Mrs. D.A. George and Mrs. Mary G. Hart, aunts; Mrs. Mary Tatum DeBose, a cousin; and Mrs. C.A. Goodloe, stepmother of Hallum. Much of the general correspondence, particularly of the earlier period, gives one an insight into Tennessee's political life and personalities. The writers often lucidly deal with local political conditions around the state. Included in this correspondence are J.B. Avery, R.L. Bynum, Newton B. Cannon, Jr., John Connell, Prentice Cooper, W.W. Faw, Stanley Horn, Cordell Hull, James R. Jetton, John Trotwood Moore, Hill McAlister, E.E. Patton, Tom C. Rye, and others.

Some good Civil War material is found in the collection. Dr. A.T. Goodloe, author of Rebel Relics and Confederate Echoes, related several experiences in a five page paper written about him years after the war. Goodloe, a graduate of the Richmond, Virginia, Medical College, enlisted as a private in Co. D, 35th Alabama Regiment. After the war, he became a minister in the M.E. Church South. Another article, written by Mrs. Mary G. Hart, relates a sharp skirmish between Confederates and Federals on her father's farm in Dyer County. C.A. Goodloe was in this fight and met his future wife, Sarah Wood, there. Of interest, also, is the large amount of Masonic material which Hallum Goodloe collected.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

- 1869, June 8 Born in Alamo, Tennessee. Son of Caswell A. Goodloe and Sallie P. Wood. He was educated in the public school and at Thompson's Classical Institute for Boys in Alamo. Also attended the University of Tennessee.
- 1891-1901 Clerk and Master in Crockett County Chancery Court. Studied law on his own and became a licensed attorney in 1901.
- 1902, June 18 Married Mary Dawson of Bells, Tennessee.
- 1901-1907 Chief Clerk to Tennessee's Secretary of State, John W. Morton. Goodloe had campaigned for the position himself against Morton.
- 1909-1913 Secretary of State under Governors Malcolm R. Patterson and Ben W. Hooper. In 1913, he was defeated for re-election largely because he was Against prohibition. Ironically, Goodloe was a teetotaler.
- 1914-1915 Collection agent for Spaulding Manufacturing Company.
- 1915-1918 Private secretary to Governor Tom C. Rye. At the end of Rye's term he was transferred to the State Banking Department.
- 1918-1929 Assistant to the Superintendent of Banks.
- 1929-1931 Chief Clerk to State Treasurer, John F. Nolan.
- 1931-1949 Deputy Superintendent (same as Assistant to Superintendent) of State Banks. Retired in 1949
- 1956, August 26 Died of a stroke in the Baptist Hospital. His last Nashville residence was 1725-16th Avenue South.
